

Chichester Festival Theatre Start time: 2.30pm

Now here's a thing...

Ian McKellen, renowned Shakespearean actor, film and theatre superstar, national treasure.... dons a pneumatic bust and swaps his 'Sir' for 'Dame' to become Mother Goose!

McKellen's Mother Goose, her husband Vic (comedian and actor John Bishop) and son Jack have hit hard times as they try to keep their Oxford Street shelter for orphaned animals financially afloat. Fortuitously, good witch Encanta sends a golden-egg-laying Cilla Quack their way. But baddie Malignia is cacklingly confident that sudden riches will corrupt the family...

'Ian McKellen owns the stage in a tour-de-force of self-parody, comic timing and a perfectly tuned sense of impending chaos. He is the beating heart of this warmly inclusive and winningly open-handed production' Time Out ★★★★★

'Sir Ian delivers eye-rubbing wow-factor as the greatest of panto dames' The Telegraph ★★★★★

'...no end of fun in this cheerfully chaotic show, packed full with scattergun gags... In bleak and cynical times, it's the kind of knockabout entertainment that we need' The Times ★★★★★

In the interests of keeping costs down post-Christmas, we're not including a set lunch, but instead suggest you bring a picnic or if you prefer, make use of the theatre café serving sandwiches and cake to buy your own light lunch. We will aim to get to Chichester at around 1.00pm for a 2.30pm performance start time.

Excursion cost: £85 per person

To include: Top price theatre ticket, coach fare, driver's gratuity and admin charges
